Pop Quiz! It's the Year in Review

It's May, and you know what that means: it's final exam season. To help make you feel like a kid again, Genome Technology culled through news from the past year to put together this trivia crossword.

How well did you pay attention in the last 12 months?

13. After years of running the healthcare and life 2. NCI unveiled this genome-wide association sciences business for IBM, this woman headed to Burrill & Company database last winter 4. This array company let investors know it was planning to have an IPO DOWN The owner of this yacht took over his former 1. Best known for its competition in personal institute last fall, where his ex-wife was president spaceflight, this organization has set its sights on the cheap genome sequencing at the time 7. Scientists from this country won the iGEM, or Beauty: Genome launched its dance tour at Wesleyan University International Genetically Engineered Machine, competition in November 5. This pair took a trip to Stockholm for a 8. Deirdre Meldrum left the University of Washington certain prize last fall for sunnier climes here 10. After years of fighting with Palm Beach County, the outpost of this California institute was finally 9. Next-gen sequencing company picked up by Applied Biosystems in a $120 million buyout. assigned land 11. In a deal announced this spring, Agilent expects to acquire this company X 12. The brainchild of Brian Gilman, this networking site could give MySpace some competition in the scientific community P F R M В Е G Е Ν Ι F R Z S R Е 0 0 R E I C R F R Ι Τ Е O 0 Τ A 0 U R U Ν Ν S D D M A E E Т R 12 S Ι Ι K L L P Ι. O K 0 Ν P